The exhibitor shall provide financial support for the listed event and receive specific benefits listed above. NEACC remains the owner and producer and retains exclusive ownership and control of the event, its name, identity, agenda, and content and reserves the right to change any aspect of these it deems helpful to ensure a successful event for the producers and attendees. If the exhibitor is more than 30 days late on scheduled payment, NEACC reserves the right to terminate this agreement. If exhibitor needs to cancel booth space, 80% is refunded if space is cancelled outside of 60 days prior to the event. If space is cancelled within 60 days, NEACC will credit 80% of the amount paid by exhibitor to the next year's event. Exhibitor agrees to provide comprehensive general liability insurance for personal injury or property damage. NEACC is not responsible for exhibitor's property during the event. Exhibitor may not sublet space without NEACC's consent; exhibitor's display may not block neighboring exhibitors and exhibitors may not dismantle or remove display until end of advertised show hours. Should any contingency prevent the holding of the listed event, NEACC may retain such part of the exhibitor's rental fees as shall be required to pay any expenses incurred up to such time. All remaining rental fees will be refunded unless the event is cancelled, postponed or curtailed or abandoned due to act of war, natural disaster, union unrest or any other cause beyond NEACC's control. This represents the complete agreement between the sponsor/exhibitor and NEACC regarding the specific event cited above and supersedes all prior agreements (if any) regarding this event.
